POLITICAL INTOLERANCE.

Some people seem to hug the delusion that a member of a political party is in duty bound to swallow, and not only swallow, but personally advocate everything contained in the platform of his party. Some of the querrier mental somersaults have been witnessed here as elsewhere in consequence of this notion. We have seen democrats who were in favor of the gold standard change their views on this question, after the convention of their party had spoken, apparently just as easily as they would change their clothes. Republicans also displayed the same disposition to swap views in the presence of a platform which tilted against their convictions on some minor subject. Political parties, or rather those entrusted with the management thereof, do some foolish and intolerant things sometimes. Above and beyond all other organizations political parties should be tolerant. Grover Cleveland—one of the best and most consistent democrats in the country, notwithstanding the bitter antagonism manifested against him by one wing of his party—has been practically read out of the democratic ranks. Why? Not because he was opposed to well-established democratic policies. But because he had the courage to protest against free silver craze, and the dangerous drift of the organization under the guidance of Bryanism. In our own county we have seen a newspaper formally read out of the democratic party for the absurd reason that the editor declined to actively support a party candidate for a county office. That was a rich morsel in a political sense, and the smallest thing ever laid at the door of a party organization. It was an absolute reversal—not only of democratic doctrine, but of the fundamental principles of individual liberty. We venture to say the attitude of the local party on that one proposition has done more to disgust and alienate right-thinking men from the organization than anything that has happened in the untried ranks for many years. If a man's party standing or even a newspaper's standing, is contingent upon yielding unreserved support to every nominee the party in convention assembled may present, the adherents of such a party will leave it to the tender mercies of the hide-bound partizan and the office seeking brigade.

Just now a hue and cry is being made on account of the attitude of some republicans in congress, who are not in line with the administration on the Cuban and Philippine questions. The idea that these differences on minor issues are likely to injure the party is far-fetched. It is equally far from the truth that the honest differences cherished by these men of national repute is calculated to injure their standing in the party ranks. A national party must necessarily take up a great many issues, and it is impossible for a number of men to be of the same mind on a multiplicity of questions. Party fealty allows the utmost latitude on non-essential points. Probably no party platform was ever framed that exactly suited the views of half a dozen members of the convention that adopted it. To maintain a political organization it is absolutely necessary to submit to the will of the majority. It does not follow, however, that this submission means a substitution of the opinion of the majority by the dissenters. They are not only at liberty to advocate their own individual opinions on non-vital points, adverse though they be to the party formulation, but it is their duty to do so. Only by healthy differences of opinion within the ranks, is the party kept moving upward to a higher plane. But while differences on minor matters are inevitable, on fundamental principles—the foundation ideas of the party—unanimity is indispensable. Thus a republican who does not believe in the basic doctrine of a protective tariff, is a misnomer. Such a one has no business in the republican ranks. No man can have a party formed expressly to suit his notions, and hence the best that any honest man can do is to identify himself with that party that comes nearest to his individual views on the vital issues, regardless of radical divergence or immaterial points.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A FRIENDLY SPIRIT.

With its usual friendly feeling for Ione the Jackson Ledger of last week vaulted into the arena and declared itself against the holding of the county conventions in this city. Just what we expected. But we are to make an attempt to get them, just the same, and we hope that the old hog town and the old hogs in the parties will be sufficiently in the minority to give us a show.—Echo.

We venture to say that the people of Ione generally take no stock in such ill-mannered and intemperate flings. The residents of the valley town are too sensible to sanction such editorial ravings. They are able to distinguish between a just demand properly presented, and such empty vapors as the above. The editor himself ought to blush to see it in print. He seems to think it is a matter of much greater consequence where the conventions shall be held, than the success of any particular set of nominees. We beg to inform the Echo scribe that the Ledger's "friendly feeling" extends to the whole of Amador county, Ione included. Unlike our cotemporary, we entertain unfriendliness toward no section of the favored county in which our lot is cast; judging from the tone of the above article, is more than can be said of the Echo man. Abuse is not argument; it is always the dernier resort of one defeated in the arena of legitimate discussion. The man who imagines he is helping the cause he represents by dishing up such a mess of hog-wash to the public, is deceiving no one but himself. Personally, the writer cares not a snap where the convention is held. The mere expenditure of a few dollars in the place where the meeting is held is not worthy of consideration. But we do contend, and will continue to contend, that the least inconvenience in the matter of time and expense to the greatest number, has been, and should continue to be, the deciding factor in such matters as far as the county central committee is concerned. Never since we have been a resident of Amador county has a convention for the nomination of a county ticket been held outside of the county seat. The last convention was held in Sutter Creek, but no county ticket was placed in the field. To ask the members of the committee to pursue an unprecedented course, by calling a convention at an uncentral point—it matters not whether that point be Ione, or Lancha Plana, or Oleta or Volcano—would be fraught with peril. We cannot understand how any one, loyal to either party, would dream of such a thing. Such despotic powers were never intended to be confided to the county central committee. What would be thought of the state central committee if it were to call a convention for the nomination of a full state ticket in San Diego. Would such a course be regarded in the interest of harmony and party success? And this is no more absurd than to ask the managers of the local party to assume the responsibility of attempting to summon the republicans or democrats in county convention at a place distant from the center of the county. If the question is to be brought up at all, let it be threshed out on the floor of the convention; let it be decided by the party in convention assembled. In the flattering estimation of the Echo, the towns of central Amador may be hog-pens, and the residents thereof hogs in human form, but let him never think for a moment that they are fools or lunatics.

THEY are having a great time

in Calaveras county over the supervisors in San Andreas District. At the last election Roberts was declared elected by a majority of two over Salcido. The margin was too narrow to resist the excitement of a contest in the courts. The trial turned on illegal ballots. The outcome of the trial was that the slim majority for Roberts was overcome, and Salcido was declared elected by an equally slim majority. The matter was appealed to the supreme court, and that tribunal sustained the judgment of the superior court. A rehearing was asked for and granted, and the supreme court has just rendered its second decision, which reverses the former judgment in favor of Salcido, and remands the cause for a new trial. As the matter now stands, it looks as though the election would hinge on one vote. Another rattle before the supreme court is probable.

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds. "I used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for sores, cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. ## Grammar School Graduates.

The result of the examination of applicants for grammar school diplomas, which was conducted in each township in the county last week, by a member of the board of education, is given below. In order to pass a successful examination, the pupil was required to receive an average of not less than 75 per cent in all studies. To fall below 50 credits in any one study would be a bar to receiving a diploma. Where the average comes up to or near 75 per cent, and the failure was owing to falling below 50 in one or more studies, the pupil would be permitted to continue his studies in those particular branches, and take another examination at the opening of the next school term, and if he succeeds in securing the necessary 50 per cent therein, and thereby bring the general average up to 75, he will be granted a diploma. So that some of those who failed, may yet be entitled to the graduation certificate at the opening of the next school term.

How to Get Rid of Rats.

Rats are very susceptible to the odor of certain drugs, and any ordinary trap set in their haunts is likely to be successful if dressed with these scents, the attraction of which, rat catchers affirm, they cannot resist. An example is: Powdered assafetida, eight grains; oil of rhodium, two drams; oil of aniseed, one dram; oil of lavender, one-half dram. Shake together in a bottle and use a very small quantity to dress the bait.

To catch rats, cover a common barrel

with stiff, stout paper, tying the edge round the barrel. Place a board so that the rats may have easy access to the top. Sprinkle cheese parings or other food for the rats on the paper for several days until they begin to think that they have a right to their daily rations from this source. Then place in the bottom of the barrel a piece of rock about six or seven inches high, filling with water until only enough of it projects above the water for one rat to lodge upon.

Now replace the paper, first cutting a cross in the middle, and the first rat that comes on the barrel top goes through into the water and climbs on the rock. The paper comes back to its original position, and the second rat follows the first. Then begins a fight for the possession of the dry place on the stone, the noise of which attracts the others, who share the same fate.—Baltimore American.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Devan.

Orange Grove

J. H. Williams, the gardener, who lives near Ranlett, has set out a small orange grove this season—the first regular orchard of this citrus fruit planted in this county. The trees are three and four years old. The orchard is in the warm belt which runs through the county. Single trees have thrived and borne abundantly in various parts of this warm zone, but this is the first attempt to cultivate the orange for profit ever made in Amador county. The experiment will be watched with interest by fruit men generally. The trees ought to bear some fruit two years after planting. There is every reason to believe that this effort at citrus fruit culture will be successful. Mr. Williams is just the man to test the matter. He is a thorough gardener, and nothing will be left undone in the way of thorough cultivation and care to insure success. As far as protection from the weather is concerned very little will be attempted. It probably would not be profitable to attempt orange culture if unusual precautions had to be taken to protect the trees in winter. But if the conditions of the thermal belt are favorable to the cultivation of the orange for profit in Amador county, the fact will be satisfactorily settled in the course of the next few years.

A Rocky Road.

A newspaper scribbler who occasionally tells the truth in what he writes states a few facts in the following sketch:

"Man's life is full of crosses and temptations. He comes into the world without his consent, goes out without his will, and his trip between the two extremities is exceedingly rocky. The rule of contrariness is one of the important features of the trip. When he is little the big girls kiss him; when he is big the little girls kiss him. If he raises a big family he is a chump, but if he raises a small check he is a thief and a fraud and is shunned like a Chinaman with the seven-year-itch. If he is poor he is a bad manager; if he is rich he is dishonest; if he's in politics you can't tell where to place him and he is no good to his country; if he doesn't give to charity he is a stingy cuss and lives only for himself; if he dies young there was a great future before him; if he lives to old age he has missed his calling. He is introduced to this world by a doctor and to the next by the same process. The road is rocky, but man likes to travel it."

There are no grasshoppers one mile this side of Buckeye, and also none past Sebastopol. They are confined in that vicinity to a section of about five miles square.

H. D. Ford, who was county assessor for several years, but who left Amador eleven years ago for Irvington, Alameda county, has been seeing his old friends in Ione and other parts of the county during the past week. He was in Jackson Monday, for the first time since he left, and was greatly surprised at the growth of the town.

Mrs. Geo. C. Folger received a letter from Miss Annie Fullen stating that Mrs. Fullen, who is living in Vallejo, was seized with a stroke of paralysis a few days ago, and was in a critical condition. This is the second stroke. Mrs. Fullen was for many years a resident of this county, on the Fullen ranch, about three miles northeast of Jackson.

S. A. Jones, who was left in charge of the struggling Herald when the doughty colonel surrendered it as a non-paying proposition a couple of weeks ago, bid farewell to Jackson and his newspaper staff last Sunday. He returned to his family in San Francisco. Less than two weeks of the Herald was all the notoriety in that line that he could stand. Thus, "one by one the stars decline." Next?

Jacob Vandamant, in attempting to shoe a horse on the 17th of June, was kicked by the animal, sustaining a fracture of the left arm just below the shoulder. Vandamant is 74 years of age, and it is usual that the process of repair in such cases is slow. Nevertheless he has recovered from the injury wonderfully quick. He was in Jackson Saturday, and was able to use his injured arm, although it is still somewhat stiff.

F. W. Ruhser, of Kerr's Pharmacy, left Jackson two weeks ago last Sunday. All sorts of rumor were industriously circulated as to the moving cause of his vacation. It was hinted that ere his return he would bid adieu to single blessedness. He returned Monday evening, and contrary to idle gossip, came back alone. He says he started out to enjoy an outing on his own account, and in his wanderings visited the Murphy's cave, the Calaveras big trees, and the wonderful Yosemite valley, returning by way of San Francisco. He had a grand jubilee in viewing nature's wonderful works.

W. E. Stewart and his daughter Belle, of Butte City, took in the dance at Electra Saturday evening. On returning home they met with an unexpected and unpleasant adventure, but which was fortunately attended with no serious consequences. They were driving home in a cart, when they were run into by a buggy with sufficient force to capsize the cart and its occupants. The shock of the collision threw Miss Stewart clean out, landing on her foot. On comparing notes, after the excitement of the mishap had abated, it was found that the damages to person and property were trivial, and the pair continued their homeward trip, thankful for their lucky escape.

Judge R. C. Rust accepted an invitation to deliver the 4th of July oration in Stockton. He was announced on the posters to take part in the 4th program in Jackson, but inasmuch as F. L. Stewart was also announced as one of the orators on that occasion, he concluded that the Stockton invitation might be accepted without entailing disappointment in Jackson.

A cook-house, mounted on wheels, such as they use in the harvest field in connection with the hay balers and combined harvesters, passed through Jackson Tuesday, en route to the Standard Electric plant at Electra. They intend to keep it on hand for use in case of emergency along the ditch, requiring the boarding of a number of hands at a point remote from the established camps.

The correct figures of the receipts and expenses of the last Italian picnic are as follows: Receipts, $1357.75; expenses, $1095.45; leaving a net balance of $262.30 in the hands of the society. This is a gratifying showing, considering the postponement of the picnic, and the managers express themselves as well pleased at the outcome. The lease of the picnic ground has expired. It has heretofore been leased at $50 per year. Whether it will be leased again is uncertain. If increased rental is demanded, it is probable that the society will not seek to renew the lease.

Virgilio Podesta last Monday purchased from the Sobey estate the premises on Main street occupied by J. S. Samuels. The price paid was $3500. The lot has a frontage on Main street of 21 feet, and rents for $35 per month. The price is considered a fat one. The property has been purchased as an investment. Mr. Podesta has no intention of occupying it himself, and in all probability the present occupancy as a dry goods store will continue. The property had to be sold in order to divide the estate between the heirs.

Mrs. L. Poggi left last Saturday for Santa Cruz, to remain several weeks. She was accompanied by Mrs. Pescia, whose husband quit the mines of this vicinity some months ago, and went to Santa Cruz, where he entered into a contract to clear off some timber land near the coast, shipping the product to San Francisco and other markets. He is so much pleased with the outcome of his venture that he sent for his wife to join him, to make their permanent home there. She accordingly left Jackson last Saturday with that object in view.

Johnny, the 16-months-old son of Henry Garabaldi, who lives on the south fork of Jackson creek, swallowed a wire shingle nail one day last week. The nail was bent, which made the matter still worse. Every means which the parents could devise was resorted to in order to relieve the child of this foreign body without avail. The little fellow experienced no discomfort by its presence in his stomach. Dr. Endicott was sent for, who gave the patient some simple remedies, resulting in the nail being ejected after a sojourn of four days in the child's intestines. Not the slightest injury or inconvenience resulted.

Death of Mrs. C. R. Renno.

Mrs. Ida Renno, wife of C. R. Renno, died about noon yesterday, after a brief illness of typhoid fever. She was 62 years of age, and had been ill for several weeks, and the illness from the start took on an alarming character. Mr. Renno was summoned from Blue Lakes, and at once hastened to the bedside of his afflicted partner. Everything that medical skill could accomplish was done to arrest the march of the dread disease to a fatal termination, but without avail. Yesterday Dr. Adams of Ione was called in consultation, and he and the came as the medical men, Drs. Endicott, Gall and Adams, were consulting over the case.

Deceased was 33 years of age, and the youngest daughter of A. Chichizola of Jackson Gate. She was married to C. R. Renno, October 25, 1899, and their matrimonial life was eminently happy. Beside the husband, who is left disconsolate over his loss, deceased leaves a father, three brothers, Thomas A., Julius, and Victor J. Chichizola, also a sister, Mrs. E. Marre, to mourn her untimely death. The funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 10 a. m.

Birthday Party.

Thursday afternoon, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Huberty, many juvenile friends of Miss Veryl Huberty were present upon invitation to celebrate the little tot's fourth birthday. The invitation which each guest received was a neatly printed card, and its reception brought gladness to each dear little heart. The afternoon was utilized in the games most enjoyable to children, refreshments in the line of ice cream, cake, candies, etc., being served, and we assert positively that the occasion will long be remembered by the buds of promise in attendance. The following named were present:

Marie Lakovich, Annie Lakovich, Clara Pescia, Helen Rust, Christina Marella, Maria Lagomarsino, Loretta Newman, Helen Kelley, Marie Weller, Eda Dalporto, Margaret Fraser, Alta Peck, Martha Washburn, Veda Morrow, Gerna Kirkwood, Dorothy Heiser, Evelyn Dunston, Hazel Green, Alma Guerra, Callie Seymour, Leotta Huberty, Frances Drobatz, Melba Lory, Veryl Huberty, Georgie Goss, Jimmie Goss, John Parker, Wallace Fraser, Willie Carley, Willie Holder, Clifford Seymour, Clarence Dunston, Dannon Lester, Russel Gobisch, Fenton Daugherty.

Large Audience Witness the Contests.

The Jackson Athletic Club Gives its Initial Entertainment—A Disappointing Finish.

The first entertainment given in the boxing line under the auspices of the Jackson Athletic and Social Club, took place in Love's hall on Wednesday evening, July 2. The object of the club is to give a series of sparring contests, and thereby keep up the interest in this organization, as well as furnish amusement for the public. The event last Wednesday awakened interest all over the county, with the outcome that probably the largest gathering ever seen in Amador county at a contest of this kind was assembled to witness the sport. A 20 foot ring, raised two feet from the floor, was made specially for the occasion, and seats were arranged on all sides; the members of the club occupied the stage in the rear. From every part of the county vehicles rolled into town in the early evening, bringing sport-lovers anxious to witness a genuine knock-out glove contest. That was what the main event was intended to be. It was announced as a 20-round go to a decision, but few entertained the thought that the limit of rounds would be reached. On the other hand few imagined that it would be brought to a wind-up so soon. The main contestants announced were Frank Raphael, whose home is Amador City, and who is said to be the champion of Alaska and the Pacific coast in the light weight class, and George Fuller, who was in Sacramento, was declared to be in no condition to train for the go, and another slogger, Jack Kane of San Francisco, was substituted. This substitution was not a source of disappointment, as Kane was held to be fully up to the standard, and had fought a battle of 15 rounds with Rafael some time ago, Rafael getting the decision. Rafael had been training in Jackson for a week or ten days preceding the bout. His antagonist came up from Sacramento on Monday night, accompanied by his seconds, E. Prendergast and Jim Tremble, both patrons of the roped arena. There was a marked disparity in the size of the two men. Rafael was stocky and powerfully built, and appeared considerably heavier than his rival. Kane is slightly taller, but more slimly built, but evidently well trained. The two men weighed on Wednesday afternoon. Rafael tipped the scales at 138 pounds—the limit. Kane with some clothes on was still within the weight. He was from 8 to 12 lbs. lighter than Rafael.

PRELIMINARY BOUTS.

It was between 9 and 10 o'clock when W. H. Willis stepped into the ring, and announced the first preliminary bout between Jim Tremble, a middleweight of note, from Los Angeles, and Gus Record of Sutter Creek. It was a friendly set-to of three rounds, simply for diversion. Owen Fallon, of Martell's station, was referee of the preliminaries, with Chez Ardillo as time-keeper for the evening. It was evident as soon as the men stripped, that the fighter from the orange groves far outclassed the local exponent. To Tremble the bout was in the nature of a pleasure excursion. He was smiling and good-natured throughout, receiving all the punishment that his antagonist could inflict good-temperedly. The Los Angeles simply played with his man throughout, while Record wore a serious look. It was the real thing to him, although Tremble did nothing more than faint, and gave light taps. It was all Record could do to stand up for the three rounds of this work, but he struggled through it, and was loudly cheered for his pluck at the close. Tremble got $15 for this effort.

The next on the program was a 5 round go between Ralph Brown of Electra, who was introduced as a "full charged battery," and Sammy Futter, "the pride of Sutter Creek." This was for a decision. There was almost as much difference between these men, as there was in the first two participants. Futter was short and white-skinned, while Brown was fully a couple of inches taller and harder. Prown started in to finish his man at a gallop. The fighting was furious from the start. Sammy displayed considerable cleverness in ducking away from the blows that were intended for mischief. A clinch was in order after every lick, and the men kept pounding at each other while clinched, until separated by the referee. In the second round Brown got in several hard blows about face and body, and at the end of the round Sam was pretty well winded. On the call of time for the third round, Futter's seconds threw up the sponge. The winner got $10 and the loser $5. Brown was the receiver in general of congratulations at the outcome from his brethren of Electra, who mustered in strength at the ringside.

THE MAIN TUSSLE.

It was nearly eleven o'clock when the chief actors of the evening appeared on the scene. Kane was attended to by Prendergast and Tremble, while Rafael was looked after by F. Burgin and G. Record. R. L. Mann was chosen to referee this scrap. There was a hitch about the gloves selected for Kane. When this was straightened out a fresh source of trouble arose about hitting in the clinches. It was finally agreed to allow punching in the clinches, until the men were separated by the referee. The sympathy of the crowd went out strongly in favor of the local man, which was to have been expected. At the tap of the gong the fighters went at each other like bull dogs. It was a slugging match from beginning to end. There was apparently little attempt to block or parry the blows. Rafael was bent, as he intimated to his friends, upon taking no chances, and doing up his opponent in short order. It had all the elements of a vicious rough-and-tumble scrap. At every blow the men would clinch, and then punch each other as best they could. The referee was kept busy trying to separate them. No one could say there was anything of the fake character about it. Rafael seemed the stronger, and his blows appeared to have the more steam behind them. Kane fell heir to the lion's share of the punishment. He received several stiff cracks on the face and body, although Rafael was a long way from having the hitting all to himself. In the second round Kane went to his knees in Rafael's corner, and remained for some moments, but the time was not counted against him. Cries of foul were heard about this time. In the third round Kane showed up well, and fought Rafael to his corner. He was the same slugging, go-as-you-please fighter that he was in the previous rounds, with Kane still in the role of receiver general, but the blows seemed to have little effect. Toward the close of the round, a claim for a medical time-out was made, and Prendergast instantly went through the ropes to his principal. This caused a general scramble to the platform, and in the midst of the confusion time was called. Both men retired to their corners unassisted. The call for the fourth round found the dispute about the foul still unsettled, and the wrangle in progress. The referee refused to allow it, and counted off 10 seconds, at the end of which Kane refused to leave his corner. The decision was thereupon given to Rafael. The verdict of the spectators was as much mixed as the participants and their seconds. Some claimed to have seen the foul blow landed, others were equally certain that it was no foul, and so the mill came to an unsatisfactory close. Kane showed marks about the nose, cheek and stomach. Rafael bore severely a medical time-out, and the pieces of the short-lived battle. The fighters received 70 per cent from the gate receipts. This the boxers divided, it is supposed the winner taking two-thirds, and the loser one-third. The total take for the evening was $357, representing a house of over 300 persons.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

The Body of John Rice Found in the Mokelumne River.

Coroner Gritton held an inquest on the body of John Rice, at Marchand's camp, the 18th day of June, before the following named jurors: A. LaRiviere, Joe Zwinge, J. B. Grillo, D. Shorn, C. Roper and P. K. Needham.

It seems that on the 1st day of April of this year the deceased disappeared from West Point. He made his home at F. Daily's place, about three-quarters of a mile from West Point bridge. He left the town about 5 p. m. for his home, and this was the last seen of him alive. His relatives, a son and a daughter, accompanied by C. Zavalla, started to look for him right away, and searched all that night, but without avail. The next morning they discovered his tracks, and traced them to the river, and where he fell into the water in two or three places. He also, according to traces, fell into a shaft of 7 or 7 feet deep. At one point, where the hill was steep, he appeared to have rolled down the hill a distance of 200 feet. He was 33 years of age, and the night he disappeared was cold and stormy. He had evidently made a heroic struggle for life. They found his hat and handkerchief in one place, and also a spot on the edge of the river where he had knelt in the sand. After long continued search the quest was relinquished. The old man, who had given up as lost, the general impression being that he had perished in the Mokelumne river.

On the 17th of June F. L. Manley, ditch-tender for the Standard Electric Company while fishing on the banks of the river, about a quarter of a mile above the bridge, realized from the smell that a dead body of some kind was in the vicinity. There was no difficulty in the discovery of the body of Rice, who had disappeared over two months before. The jury returned a verdict that deceased came to his death on or about the 1st of April by drowning in the Mokelumne river by accidentally falling into the water while exhausted from exposure on account of being lost. The remains were given in charge of relatives for interment. Deceased was formerly a resident of Ione, and was a native of Mexico.

Dance at Electra.

Last Saturday evening a social dance was given at Electra. A large platform, the floor of the new cook house for the plant, was utilized for the purpose, to which about 30 feet had been added specially for the dance. When the floor had been laid, in the course of constructing the new building, some of the baseball players at the plant secured permission to give a dance. It was not designed as a money making scheme, but simply for a good social time. If any balance remained over, it was to go for the benefit of the baseball team of Electra. The idea took wonderfully. Music was furnished by the Jackson band. There were 80 couple present, mostly from Jackson. Team after team left town loaded with pleasure, and the evening was all bound for the scene of festivity. They all speak in the highest terms of the reception accorded them, and the pleasures of the dance. The big electric works, which the hazy dunes, carrying something like ten thousand horse power to Stockton, San Jose, Alameda county, and other points, were thrown open to the visitors on this occasion. An excellent supper was spread on the central platform, and ice cream was also furnished at 10 cents per plate. The whole affair was carried out harmoniously and to the entire satisfaction of all participants.

Volcano Baseball Club Defeated by the Oleta Boys—Items from Amador and Shenandoah.

VOLCANO, June 29.—The Volcano baseball team went to Oleta last Sunday and returned with a score of 7 to 13, in favor of the Oletas. The game was pretty even throughout, with the exception of the second inning, when some bad errors on the Volcano side gave the Oletas a show to pile up eight runs. The Volcanos have now got a team composed entirely of town boys, and expect to meet the Oletas again soon after the fourth. The Oleta team, by the way, seemed to be composed mostly of Plymouth boys.

After the entertainment ice cream and cake were sold.

SHENANDOAH VALLEY.

SHENANDOAH VALLEY, July 1.—Cool western breezes during the past few days have brought a welcome change from the sweltering heat to which we had been obliged to submit. The first ripe peaches of the local orchards are just coming in, two weeks behind the usual time.

The rattle of the headers wakes the echoes all over the valley. Many of the fields destined for grain were cut for hay, owing to the severe hail storm of May 24th, and the yield will be far below the average.

F. A. Ball, of the valley, has been re-elected principal of the Plymouth school. Miss Maude Brown will teach the Pigeon Creek school during the ensuing term.

Miss Mabel Ball went to Pi Pi valley last week where her brothers are working in the mine.

White Man Turned Felt,

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by D. B. Spagnoli, druggist.

Beat His Board Bill.

Constable Kay went to Sacramento Tuesday and brought back a prisoner named Victor Scattina, who was wanted in Jackson on a charge of beating a board bill. He is a young man, claims to be under 21 years of age. He had been working at the Kennedy mine, and boarded at Dalporto's hotel. On leaving his employment he owed Dalporto for board over $80, and skipped out without paying. He has well-to-do relatives in Chicago, and it was thought that he had left for that city. Further inquiries, however, located him in Sacramento, and at the request of constable Kay he was arrested there last Monday. He had been working in the railroad shops at Sacramento.

Dr. P. C. Erhardt, assistant dentist in Dr. C. A. Herrick's office, will remain in that town all next week for dentistry business.

MINING NEWS.

SARGENT.—At this mine the engine and boiler have been put in place in solid brickwork. W. L. Fortner did the brickwork. The erection of the gallow's-frame for the hoist is now in progress. The sinking operations proceed slowly with the crude appliances at hand. The shaft is being sunk on the ledge matter, and follows the vein. The character of the quartz is very encouraging for the development of a paying mine.

DOOLEY.—At this mine a crushing of from 20 to 25 tons of worked-over ore was made at the Nugget mill in Mt Echo district recently, and yielded $500, or an average of $20 per ton. The shaft is about 100 feet deep, and the operations consist in following the small rich seams of quartz which are characteristic of the claim. The richest of the ore is pounded in a mortar, and the values so obtained have yielded a generous living. After exhausting the richest portion of rock in this fashion, the residue is sent to the mill. Within the past few years the proceeds of this mine have sufficed to clear the property of a mortgage that had been overhanging the homestead for years. The mine is situated near the Ione road, about four miles from Ione.

A. J. Crain and others are working the old dump pile of the Empire mine at Plymouth. They have four Huntington roller mills in operation. They have been started several days, and it is reported that the indications are favorable for a paying yield. There are hundreds of thousands of tons in this dump. If 50 cents a ton can be realized, it will pay handsomely. Preparations are being made to have four more mills started up.

Fatal Accident at Blue Lakes.

A message was received last Monday that an Italian named Felice Galiazzi, an employee of the Standard Electric Company on the works at Blue Lakes, was accidentally killed last Monday.

We have been unable to gather the details of the affair. The meager reports to hand say that the man was working in the stone quarry. Whether he was killed by a falling rock or by a derrick we have not heard. The authorities at Electra were notified, and word was sent from there to parties in Jackson inquiring if the deceased was a member of any benevolent society, or had any relatives, who would wish to take charge of the remains. If not, the body would be buried in the vicinity of the accident. Deceased was a single man, aged about 52 years. He had lived in Amador county for the past 10 years, but was not connected with any organization, and has no relatives in the county.

Jackson vs. Ione.

Last Sunday, at Picardo's park, the Jackson and Ione baseball clubs met for the second time this season and struggled for mastery. The Ione boys were unable to close up the gap that Jackson opened up in the first part of the game, and were defeated by the score of 17 to 7. This makes one game for each club, Ione winning the first.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dulness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions, and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. De Witt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently, but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. Kerr's Pharmacy, Jackson.
